Alma Mater Bids You Come During the Month of Roses

LAST month it was stated that the Commencement Season—June 7, 8 and 9—was only a few short weeks away. Now, well, now it's right upon us. All too soon it will be but a matter of record, but from all present indications that record, when written, will be a highly satisfactory one.

The program for the annual June season is as outlined below. The Golf Tournament (bring your best clubs and enjoy a day on the most beautiful nine-hole course in the state), the Commencement Supper under the McGuffey Elms, the Alumni Luncheon with special reservations for the class reunion groups, and the various receptions are all events of particular interest to alumni.

The Baccalaureate Service and the Men's Glee Club Concert on Sunday, and the Graduating Exercises on Monday are of course open to all. No tickets and no reservations are required for these three events. An early arrival at the Auditorium, however, is strongly advised.

Restored to the program after an absence of one year is the popular, out-of-doors supper on Saturday evening. Eligible and cordially invited to attend this delightfully informal affair are all alumni and any personal guests that they may have with them. Also invited are members of the faculty and their families, and members of the senior class and their guests. As many as 1,000 persons have attended this party on past occasions.

The supper, previously served free, was discontinued last year because the budget of the Alumni Association was no longer able to support it. Because of the large number of expressions of disappointment, however, the supper has been re-scheduled as before, except that a charge of 30 cents per plate is being made. Ticket reservations MUST be made in advance at the Alumni Office, either by mail, telephone, or by personal call. The reservation deadline is Thursday evening, June 5.

The Alumni Luncheon, which proved to be such an unqualified success last year, will be held again in the Lindley Hall dining room. Guests will gather at twelve o'clock, noon, in the beautiful Lindley lounge. Alumni, of course, are welcome, and are expected to bring wives, husbands, or other guests. Because the dining room will seat only 400 persons, it is urged that tickets (60 cents each) be reserved AT ONCE. Requests should be addressed to the Alumni Office.

Grosvenor S. McKee, '16, national president of the Alumni Association will preside as toastmaster at the luncheon. The speaker will be Congressman David Baumhart, '31, who is coming straight from the Nation's capital with a word concerning the relationship of the United States to world affairs.

Eight classes will hold reunions this year and their members and guests will be seated at the luncheon in groups. The classes celebrating graduation anniversaries are the Classes of '91, '96, '06, '11, '16, '21, '26, and '31.

President and Mrs. James cordially invite all alumni and their guests to attend the reception at the President's Home on East Union Street (opposite the Alumni Memorial Auditorium) between the hours of four

Current Season of Alumni Gatherings Comes To Close With Nine Parties in Month of June

NINE alumni meetings, held in May, have capped a most successful spring season of local group reunions.

With their usual careful attention to decorative detail, the officers and members of the Eastern Ohio chapter held their annual dinner, May 2, in the banquet room of the Fort Steuben Hotel, Steubenville. The death of one of the city's best known school supervisors—a sister of Bess O'Dell, '24, A.M., '35—on the eve of the party played a large part in keeping the attendance to a much-below-average 42.

Albert C. Gubitz, professor of economics, was the campus guest and speaker. A vocal duet, by two most attractive young ladies from the local high school, and group singing aided and abetted by Edith Wilson, '40 (M.A.), and Mary Gilchrist, '25, 2-yr., were the musical features. President Dorothy Daugherty, '34, was the toastmistress.

Besides Miss Daugherty, officers for the past year were Etta Halley, '38, vice president; Phyllis Neely, '39, secretary; and Andrew W. Fenske, '30, treasurer. Committee chairmen were Catherine Bradley, Harold Bach, Dorothy Westlake, Margaret Halley, Katherine Beck, Mrs. J. M. Dean, Gertrude Marty, and Virginia Baker. The 1941-42 leadership will be in the hands of Etta Halley, president; Harry Thorne, '38, vice president; Alethea Ochsen-dorf, '38, secretary; and Doris Bra-shear, '40, treasurer.

On May 3, Miss Margaret Osgood, assistant dean of women at Ohio University, addressed a Guest Day Luncheon meeting of the Ohio University Women's Club of Youngstown at the Ohio Hotel. There were 65 members and guests present.

The retiring president and secretary of this enterprising women's group are, respectively, Mrs. Harold Doyle (Gertrude Nelson, '13, 2-yr.), and Leora Ashurst, '32. Their successors are Eliza Allison, '16, and Ruth Kindler, '29, 2-yr.

The O. U. [abbreviations are used now and hereafter to conserve space] Women's Club of Akron met May 10, 1941, at The Canteen for lunchcon and a business meeting. A summer picnic was planned, reports were read, officers were elected, and the new constitution, presented by Mrs. Fred Jennings (Nadine Michael, '24), was adopted.

The following officers were elected for 1941-42: President, Mrs. Carl Adamson (Lucille Rea, '22x); vice president, Mrs. Eugene Roberts

President Jack Laskin, '33, A. M., '36, and Secretary Flora Louise Juett, '38, of the Washington chapter, were in charge of arrangements for the party. Plans for a picnic, June 19, in beautiful Rock Creek Park are under consideration.

Fifty-six Cincinnati alumni responded to the clever announcement devised by William L. "Bill" Kircher, '36, and the efforts of chapter officers and committeemen, assembling, Sunday evening, May 18, for a buffet supper at the home of Dr. Gerald H. Castle, '24, and Mrs. Castle, 724 Oak Street.

Dean and Mrs. Lange and Alumni Secretary and Mrs. Williams motored down from Athens to enjoy the hospitality of the Cincinnatians. The supper was followed by an election of officers and a round of good, old-fashioned visiting.

The new corps of officers includes William L. Kircher, president; Dr. E. E. Rhoads, '27, vice president; Katherine Detwiler, '36, 2-yr., secretary; Arthur L. Moler, '10, 2-yr., treasurer; and Frank C. Games, '26, director. The outgoing president and secretary were Dr. A. Y. Wilcox, Jr., '26, and Mrs. Thyra Wells Norcross, '29.

The members of the O. U. Women's Club of Cincinnati who were present took advantage of the opportunity to seek contributions to their scholarship fund and also to elect the following officers for the coming year: Mary E. E. Bennett, '29, president; Gertrude Addicott, '30, vice president; Lillian Denner, '29, secretary; and Stella Koons, '09, treasurer. Miss Bennett and Miss Denner succeeded Mrs. J. D. Murch (Olive Cameron, '16x) and Ilo Feurt, '27, in their respective offices.

Dean Irma E. Voigt was the guest of the O. U. Women's Club of Cleveland, May 18, at the group's annual Tea or Open House at the West Side Y.W.C.A., which was attended by approximately 200 persons. Other guests of the club were the members of the three O.U. Mothers' Clubs of the Cleveland area—Lakewood, East Cleveland, and West Cleveland.

Outstanding Student David Horine

Gyneth Bryan, '23); secretary, Mrs. Jack Pixler (Winifred Shott, '25); treasurer, Mrs. E. R. Snider (Ruth Crow, '29); and historian, Mrs. Walker E. McCorkle. Heading the officer personnel, under whom a highly successful year was completed, were Mrs. Rhys D. Evans (Mary Chappellear, '09), president, and Lillie Greer, '25, 2-yr., secretary.

In busy Washington, D. C., 40 Ohioans took time out to attend a "Film Party" held at Central High School on May 19. Included in the movies sent from the campus were pictures taken by Dean of Men Laurence Lange of the recent Ohio-Duquesne basketball game at Madison Square Garden, New York City, and pictures of the 1932 football team being received by President Herbert Hoover at the White House prior to the Ohio-Navy game (which, incidentally, the Bobcats won, 14-0).

Morton Qualifies for Old Timers Club With 23 Years of Service

Dr. Robert Lee Morton, '13 (see front cover), professor of education, is another Ohio University alumnus who must, whether or no, be grouped with the "old timers" on the teaching staff of his alma mater. The appellation applies only to length of service, however, for, whether in the classroom, at the bridge table, or on the golf course, there is no evidence that the old man with the scythe has even begun to take notice of him.

Dr. Morton was born Nov. 25, 1889, at Brownsville, Ohio. After graduating from the high school in Brownsville, he taught two years in his home school. He then came to Ohio University from which he received the B.S. in Ed. degree in 1913. For five years thereafter he was head of the public schools in Frankfort, teaching in summer sessions at Ohio University during two of these years.

In 1918, Dr. Morton received an A.M. degree from Ohio State University, and was awarded the Ph.D. degree by Ohio State in 1925. Two summers, 1914 and 1915, were spent in study at Columbia University. In 1918, he became associated with the Extension Division of Ohio University, serving as director in 1920-21. In 1921, he came to the campus as professor of mathematics, a title which he held until 1936, when he became professor of education. For four consecutive summers he was professor of education at Ohio State University, and, in 1931, served in a similar capacity at the University of Washington.

He is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a member of the Educational Research Association, the Educational Council of the Ohio Education Association, the National Society for the Study of Education, the American Statistical Association, and a committee chairman of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. He is also a member of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education fraternity, Sigma Xi, scientific honorary, and an alumnus member of Ohio University's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. He is the author of a number of textbooks and of scores of published articles.

Dr. Morton married Miss Jean Adams, '14, of Highland, June 25, 1914. They have two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Kadison (Jean Morton, '36), New York City, and Mrs. Frederic E. Webb, (Mary Eleanor Morton, '36), Athens.

and five-thirty Sunday afternoon. Other receptions scheduled on the commencement program are more limited as to the scope of eligibility for attendance.

As previously announced, housing accommodations for alumni and members of their families may be secured in university dormitories for Saturday and Sunday nights upon advance request to the Alumni Office. The cost will be $1 per night per person.

Because the dormitories will not have been vacated by all of their regular occupants it will be impossible for family or mixed groups to be assigned to the same dormitory. Men and boys will be housed in the Men's Dormitory, while lodging for women, girls, and small children will be arranged for in Howard Hall. Since the dormitories do not provide personal linen and supplies—towels, soap, etc.—for students, they will not be equipped to provide them for alumni. Don't forget, therefore, to come equipped with all personal items.

The largest June class in the history of the school, 471 persons, will become alumni of Ohio University upon receipt of their degrees from

Meister, Princeton Honor Grad, Accepts Steubenville Pastorate

John W. Meister, '38, who recently graduated from the Theological Seminary of Princeton University, returned to his former home in Athens to be ordained to the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in a service held May 19, in the local church.

Upon graduation from the Eastern institution he was awarded the Hugh Davies Prize in Homiletics, a recognition accorded each year to the outstanding preacher of the school. At Princeton he participated in a large number of the activities of the campus. At Ohio University he was a member of the varsity debate team and of Phi Beta Kappa, and was president of the Class of 1938.

Reverend Meister has accepted the pastorate of the Third Presbyterian Church in Steubenville. He is a brother of Martha Meister, '40, East Liverpool, an investigator in Columbiana County for the Division of Aid to Dependent Children.

the hand of President James at the formal graduation exercises on Monday morning. The commencement address will be given by President James Fulton Zimmerman, of the University of New Mexico. The baccalaureate speaker, on the preceding day, will be the Rev. Albert Daniel Stauffacher, minister of the Plymouth Congregational Church, Lansing, Mich.

On and About the Campus . . .

PRESIDENT Herman G. James told members of the National Congress of Sons of the American Revolution, at their 52nd annual meeting in Columbus this month, that "America is the sole hope for the revival of democracy in the post-war crisis after the conclusion of the present struggle." He also stated that this struggle of the democratic nations is not a new one in history; that democracies and the democratic idea have passed through other dark periods and have survived.

THE YEAR'S final review of Ohio University's R.O.T.C. regiment will be held at the stadium on May 28 in honor of Colonel Thomas F. McNeill, professor of military science and tactics and commandant of cadets, who will soon retire after a career of more than forty years of distinguished service in the United States Army. Colonel McNeill has served in the Philippines, in Hawaii, and on the Mexican Border; and was cited for gallantry in action in World War I. He is a graduate of the Coast Artillery School and of the Command and General Staff School. Ohio University men who have served under him will wish him well during his retirement years. As a part of the review ceremonies the Ohio University Rifle Team will receive the Hearst Trophy Award for placing first in the Fifth Corps Area and fourth in the National Competition.

FINE ARTS Week, May 3-11, was observed at Ohio University with a program which included a traveling art exhibit, local exhibits, a play by the University Theatre, and concerts by the University Symphony Orchestra and the University Band.

TWO courses, Mechanical Drawing and Engineering Fundamentals, will be offered during the summer session in connection with the National Engineering Defense Program, according to Dean William M. Young, Southeastern Ohio director for the program.

FURTHER deferment of military service for students in specialized professional and technical fields to provide an additional backlog of manpower for defense industries has been urged recently by Col. C. W. Goble, selective service director for Ohio. The advice is a part of a memorandum issued to Ohio's 330 local draft boards.

FOR the first time in the history of the Ohio University Post, or the student newspaper under any other name, a woman has been named editor-in-chief. The young lady to enjoy this distinction is Mary Elizabeth Lasher, a senior next year and a daughter of Prof. George Starr Lasher, director of the Ohio University School of Journalism. She succeeds Robert L. Wertman, '41, Lakewood. The Post is published three times each week during the school year and has enjoyed high national ratings for several years.

Post Editor Mary Elizabeth Lasher

AMONG the speakers appearing on Ohio University programs during the past month have been Dr. William Lloyd Evans, chairman of the department of chemistry at Ohio State University, and president of the American Chemical Society; Dr. Pacheco e Silva, world famous Brazilian neuro-psychiatrist; Dr. Maynard Krueger, professor of economics, University of Chicago; and John M. Gould, president of the School of Moderators of Town Hall Meetings at Goddard College, Plainfield, Vt.

KATHRYN CARNES, Lima senior, was crowned May Queen during campus ceremonies on Senior Day, May 23. Dean T. C. McCracken had the honor of placing the wreath upon the head of the attractive blonde co-ed in the presence of her court, which was composed of Doris Killinen, Fairport Harbor; Bettie Bell, Cleveland; Ruth Miller, California, Pa.; and Mary Robertson, Clarksburg, W. Va. Music by the men's glee club, attired in appropriate costumes, English folk dances, and a May Pole dance followed the crowning. The Senior Day program was concluded with the annual Senior Ball in the Men's Gymnasium.

DELTA TAU DELTA fraternity singers were awarded first place and a silver loving cup in the annual Torch Sing on May 16. Beta Theta Pi fraternity, which has won the cup for the past four years, placed second. In a state interfraternity contest held at Ohio State University a few nights later, Delta Tau Delta ranked second to Ohio Wesleyan's Kappa Sigs.

MORE than 1,300 Southeastern Ohio high school students, representing 41 schools in the district, participated in the annual District Scholarship Tests held on the campus May 3. Belmont and Scioto Counties are at the extreme northern and southern "poles" of the district.

AN NYA agricultural training project, which is being staged in cooperation with Ohio University, employs twenty youths from the Athens district on the university-leased, 333-acre farm near Hebbardsville. The boys are being instructed in practical phases of scientific agriculture which will be useful in the cultivation of the sort of land found in the local area.

ACORRECTION of speech defects is needed by 26 per cent of 544 prospective teachers at Ohio University, according to a "Survey of a Need for Voice Improvement" conducted by Jane Lieberman, Youngstown senior. The survey included a series of tests made over a period of one and one-half years. Students must pass these tests before engaging in practice teaching.

Voris To Direct Akron Training School for Defense Workers

For the last four years coordinator and instructor in vocational machine shop work in the high school at Wadsworth, Clyde A. Voris, '34, has been released by his school board to accept the directorship of the Apprentice Training School of the B. F. Goodrich Co., in Akron.

Under Voris' supervision, the vocational training school in Wadsworth developed from a single course in machine shop to a $50,000 institution operating on a 24-hour basis.

Current Season of Alumni Meetings Closes with Nine Parties in May (Continued from page three)

Music for the occasion was provided by a trio of campus co-eds composed of Dorothy McBride, Cleveland, (the women's club's scholarship student); Jenny Thomas, Canton; and Jean Crawford, Athens. Mrs. William Ruston, Athens, was the accompanist.

This flourishing alumnae group in Ohio's first city has for its president and secretary, Marian Whitsey, '18, and Mrs. George Forbes (Justine Krejci, '34).

The annual dinner of the Lima chapter was held May 21, in the new private dining room of the Barr Hotel, with an attendance of 33 persons.

A feature of the dinner was the presentation of a gold key, bearing the University seal on a black onyx background and inscribed "Outstanding Ohio University Student, Allen County, 1941," to David Horine, Lima. Horine, who was present to receive the award, is a senior in the College of Education, has a scholastic average of 2.5, is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity, is a member and former president of the Symphony Orchestra, and is a member and former treasurer of the University Band. Ruth Reid and Kathryn Carnes, both of Lima, were close contestants for the honor. The former is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, while the latter was crowned May Queen in Senior Day exercises. Prof. R. F. Beckert, '23, and the Alumni Secretary were present from the campus.

Going out of office following the annual election were Raymond N. Dixon, '40, president, and Mrs. Clarence Baechler (Mary Hersh, '27x), secretary. Succeeding them were Ethel Asher, '17, 2-yr., and Margaret Tulga, '39.

Uhrichsville alumni, who, with wives and husbands, numbered 18, gathered for dinner, May 21, at the E. R. B. Tea Room, in honor of Dean W. S. Gamertsfelder, of the College of Arts and Sciences, who was in the city to give the Uhrichsville High School commencement address. Judge George W. Reed, '88, was the toastmaster.

Lieut. Frank DeLuca Has Role in Taking Over Huge Italian Liner

No routine training activity was a recent experience of Frank A. DeLuca, '40, 1st Lt., U.S.A., now stationed in Panama, which he has reported to Ohio University friends in a letter to Mrs. Blanche Lutz, Alpha Gamma Delta housemother. The story reveals why his letter was written on stationery of the Italian luxury liner, Conte Biancamano.

The big liner had the misfortune to be in port in the Canal Zone on March 30 when Uncle Sam ordered the seizure of all Axis shipping in American waters.

Having a command of the Italian language, Lt. DeLuca was detailed as an interpreter and member of the boarding party which took over the Conte Biancamano. The captain and several subordinate officers were arrested for sabotaging the ship's huge turbine engines. The remaining members of the crew have been interned "somewhere" in the United States.

Ohio Man Heads Second Largest Dramatics School in the Country

During the ten years that Rupel J. Jones, '20, has been director of the School of Drama at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla., the enrollment in his school has more than doubled and it is now the second largest dramatic school among colleges and universities in the country.

At the present time, Director Jones has students from as far away as London, England, Vienna, Austria, New York City, Los Angeles, and other distant places. His graduates and former students have appeared on Broadway and in the movies. Others hold responsible positions in radio and teaching. One of his graduates is director of the Balboa Little Theatre, Balboa, Canal Zone.

During a recent month the Drama School activities included two major productions, a road trip, a presentation of a musical comedy (last year's musical comedy won the ASCAP regional award), a presentation of a play in a children's theatre, and the production of five one-act plays in a single week.

Mr. Jones was a member of the Council of the National Theatre Conference for six years. During this time he was also director of the seventh region.

The Oklahoma director is the husband of the former Miss Helen Ballinger, '24x. His father and three of his brothers are graduates of Ohio University.

Current Year One of the Most Successful in History of Inter-Collegiate Sports at Ohio U.

THE year's end brings little of disappointment to Ohio University coaches, players, and fans. There isn't much they would do differently if there were opportunities for repeating the year's activities.

Don Peden's 1940 gridiron team finished a nine-game schedule with only two setbacks and each of those by small margins, 6 to 0. Quarterback Danny Risaliti, as in the preceding year, was accorded "All-Ohio" honors, while several other gridirers received second place rankings or honorable mentions.

Big Bill Trautwein, basketball coach, certainly has no complaints with the past season. Sixteen victories were recorded in the 19 starts of the regular season, and to cap everything, the Bobcats went to New York City to finish in the runner-up position in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden. Frank Baumholtz, who set a three-year scoring record at Ohio University, and his colleague, Carl Ott, were named to places on the All-Ohio team. Baumholtz, who received the "most valuable player" trophy in the Eastern tournament, was placed on the All-America team.

With but one game yet to go, Coach Peden's diamond squad has won all but four of its 15 contests played to date. Western State Michigan College won the two opening games, at Ohio Field, while Miami and Dayton took the Bobcats' measure and broke an 11-game winning streak during a recent road trip. Both of the latter teams had previously been licked by the Ohioans. Ohio State's Western Conference team, defeated earlier by Ohio U., 7 to 3, will be met in the season's finale on May 31.

On the "must" list of mentions among the baseballers are: Jack Mlakar, Cleveland, and Cliff Craig, Rinard Mills, pitchers; Ray Faroni, Cleveland Heights, catcher; Eddie McHugh, Brooklyn, N. Y., second base; Frank Baumholtz, Midvale, left field; and Ernie Kish, Cleveland, right field.

ALTHOUGH losing to Ohio State and Miami in dual track meets, Coach Bill Herbert, '25, and the members of his cinder and field squad (see picture) have every reason to feel good over their 1941 showing.

The season was opened with a decisive 91-40 victory over Ohio Wesleyan in the Bishops' stadium at Delaware. Then followed the 89-42 loss to Ohio State in the big Buckeye Stadium in Columbus. Bethany (W. Va.) College and Akron University were swamped in a three-team meet at Ohio Stadium when the Bobcats captured every first place and all but one of the second place showings. The scores were: Ohio, 125½; Bethany, 30½; and Akron, 6. Baldwin-Wallace and Bowling Green tracksters were easily overcome, 103 to 28, and 119 to 12; the first meet being held in Berea, and the second in Athens.

The Miami Redskins, arch foes of the Bobcats on track and field, scalped the Green and Whalers by the close margin of 71½ to 59½ at Ohio Stadium in the closing dual meet of the season. One more first place copped by the home boys would have placed them on an approximately "even Steven" basis with their opponents.

Miami dominated the All-Buckeye meet at Delaware, May 24, to win with the top score of 78 points. Ohio University, defending champions scored 60½ points for second place, while Oberlin, Ohio Wesleyan, Cincinnati, Ashland, and Dayton trailed in the order given.

Ed Kasputis, Euclid senior, was the season's heaviest point winner for Ohio. Ed captured first place in the discus-throw and shot-put in every meet this year, including the Buckeye, except the shot-put in the Ohio State encounter. New Ohio Stadium records were established by Howard Duff, Glen Olden, Pa., in the pole vault, and Jim Ogg, Stewart, in the high jump.

COACH Jack Rhoads, '29, and his tennis squad just about broke even on a pretentious schedule of meets that took them pretty well over the state. Veterans on the squad are Bill Rose, Marietta; Glenn Engelke, Cleveland Heights; Ted Evans, Akron; Loren Swedenborg, Ashtabula; and Ed Finley, Rocky River.

IT'S a little early to be talking about football prospects for next year, but rest assured that those master minds of strategy—Coaches Peden, Trautwein, Herbert, Wise, and Crane—will be thinking of something besides the summer heat between now and next September. Their losses in several spots are going to be serious ones, and no one knows how many of their boys will be called away or weaned away by Uncle Sam, but that Ohio U. will be represented by a squad of fighters, need not be doubted for a moment.

THE 1941 football schedule: Sept. 26, Youngstown College, at Youngstown; Oct. 4, Western Reserve, at Athens; Oct. 11, Western Kentucky Teachers College, at Athens; Oct. 18, University of Akron, at Akron; Oct. 25, Butler University, at Indianapolis; Nov. 1, Miami University (Homecoming), at Athens; Nov. 8, Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware; Nov. 20 (Thanksgiving), University of Dayton, at Athens. Next fall will see Ohio's first Thanksgiving game in many years.

Coach Bill Herbert and His 1941 Track Squad

Here and There Among the Alumni

DR. T. R. BIDDLE, '91, and Mrs. Biddle have issued formal invitations to the members of the former's graduating class for a garden party and supper at the Biddle home in Athens next month. Dr. Biddle's class will be observing the fiftieth anniversary of its graduation.

Because he will be in the East at Commencement time, and therefore unable to attend Commencement exercises, J. CLAIRE EVANS, '01, Denver, Colo., vice-president of the Denver Fire Clay Co., attempted to arrange a "fortieth" anniversary reunion of his class in Athens on May 9. He was forced to give up his plans, however, when it was found that only one of the six living members of the class, besides himself, could be present for the dinner. The class survivors are widely scattered throughout the country.

The long-time home of NELLE PICKERING, '02, retired Athens high school teacher, is one of several homes which will be dismantled to make way for the million dollar highway project which involves a new approach to Athens from the North (U. S. Route 33) and several miles of highway relocation. The sharp turn on the northern fringe of the city is one of the principal traffic hazards which will be eliminated.

MARY CONNETT, '11, instructor in English and dean of girls, Athens High School, has been elected to the regional board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. Her district includes Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

From SAMUEL O. WELDAY, '12, principal of Roosevelt School, Santa Barbara, Calif., the Alumni Secretary recently received a beautiful, full-color print of California's famous Death Valley. Mr. Welday is one of Santa Barbara's civic leaders, being prominently identified with school, church, and lodge activities.

Mrs. Alice Hastings Shively, age 86, died at her home in McArthur on May 22. Mrs. Shively was the mother of HAROLD H. SHIVELY, '13, Wellesley, Mass., associated with the Babson Institute, and EARL C. SHIVELY, '21, Columbus, attorney and Ohio University trustee.

Rumor hath it that when the names of persons qualified to succeed E. N. DIETRICH, '16, as director of education for the State of Ohio, are considered by Governor Brucker this fall, the name of KENNETH C. RAY, '31, A.M., will be one of the prominent ones on the roster. Mr. Ray, now superintendent of the Zanesville schools, is a former superintendent of the Athens County schools and a one-time member of the state legislature. Mr. Dietrich, being a Democrat, does not expect reappointment from the Republican governor.

Mrs. John W. Galbreath (HELEN MAUCK, '19), Columbus, wife of Ohio University's newest trustee, motored to Athens for the Pan-American Celebration on April 23. Accompanying Mrs. Galbreath were her daughter and eleven of her classmates at Grandview Junior High School.

Delayed, pending the receipt of a photograph, is the announcement of the death, February 25, of MRS. RUTH DAVIS

BROWN, '21, wife of MONROE F. BROWN, '20, of West New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y. Mrs. Brown had been in poor health since last Christmas. She was an accomplished pianist and had continued her interest in music until her death. In West New Brighton she was historian of the Staten Island chapter of the D. A. R., senior president of the C. A. R., and an active participant in school and church activities. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mary Elizabeth, 16, and Dorothy Ann, 13. Mr. Brown, a chemical engineer, is in charge of cost engineering in the Port Ivory Plant of the Proctor and Gamble Mfg. Co. Mrs. Brown's body was returned to Athens for burial.

WILLIAM J. "BILL" BARR, '22, is rounding out his fifteenth year as a coach in the high school at Stow, near Akron. In basketball his teams captured four Summit County Class B titles before a slight increase in enrollment forced the school into the Class A rank. Barr's teams have won 165 games and lost 83 under his tutelage. This year he developed a basketball center who is attracting widespread attention. This 17-year-old lad stands six feet three inches, and weighs 195 pounds.

Mrs. Floyd Rosser (HELEN ORHLINGER, '23) was called from her home in Detroit early this month to her parental home in Nelsonville by the death of her father, a highly respected business man of the community. Mrs. Rosser's husband holds an executive position at the Henry Ford Hospital, in Detroit.

LILLIE GREER, '25, 2-yr., instructor in South High School, Akron, and the immediate past secretary of the Ohio University Women's Club of the Rubber City, celebrated May Day by moving into a new home which was built for her this spring.

CLARENCE A. GILLILAN, '26, radio operator for the Akron Police and Fire Signal System, has made adjustments and adaptations in the city's wireless broadcasting station which will enable Akron authorities to communicate with police in other cities and nearby states without first contacting the state highway patrol. Mr. Gillilan's mother, Mrs. Fred Gillilan, Torch, was the "Honorary Mother" for the 1940 Mothers' Weekend.

ALVIN W. JONES, '27x, president of the Chillicothe chamber of commerce, and five other civic leaders from that community, recently visited Washington, D. C., where they appeared before War Department officials to point out the advantages of a site near Chillicothe for a new Army cantonment. The Chillicothe site is one of four being considered. Camp Sherman, one of the largest military camps in the last war, was located on the outskirts of Chillicothe. At its peak, Camp Sherman housed 80,000 of Uncle Sam's soldiers. The site of this World War I cantonment is now occupied by a government hospital and a federal reformatory.

NED BIXLER, '27x, and Mrs. Bixler, (JANICE BATTIN, '26), are residents of Zanesville, where the former is advertising manager of the Mossaic Tile Co., one of the largest concerns of its kind in the country.

Among the candidates for master's degrees at the June Commencement at Ohio University is ANN MUMMA, '29, secretary to Dean T. C. McCracken, of the College of Education.

ELEANOR MACKINNON, '30, sister of Ohio University's popular English professor Clinton N. Mackinnon, is a critic teacher in Teachers College of Connecticut, New Britain, Conn.

CARLOS R. MARTIN, '31, a federal fruit and vegetable inspector, is located at New Roads, La., at the present moment. His address changes with the growing season. He says he can best be contacted through his home in Waterford, Ohio.

Alumni who are back to enjoy the Commencement Supper "under the Elms" Saturday evening, June 7, and the Alumni Luncheon in Lindley Hall, at noon Sunday, June 8, will be interested to know that both meals were planned and supervised by MRS. MARGARET KEEHNE DAVIS, '32, director of dining halls at Ohio University.

Who wouldn't be proud of the handsome youngster pictured on next page? He is Daniel Charles Bartlett, 2-year-old son of C. M. "MAC" BARTLETT, '33, and Mrs. Bartlett, Miami, Okla. Danny's picture was requested by the editor of the Ohio Alumnus for use in these columns. Danny's daddy is city editor of the Miami Daily News-Record.

JOHN T. MCLEAN, '35x, and Mrs. McLean (RUTH IRVIN, '34, A.M., '36), with their children, Sara Catherine and Bob, are living in Mansfield, where the former is assistant advertising manager of the Ranges and Water Heater Division of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. Prior to accepting this position he was associated with the Hoover Company (sweepers), North Canton, and with the Mansfield News-Journal, and the Mansfield Tire & Rubber Company.

DR. ROBERT S. SRI GLEY, '35, senior surgical interne at University Hospital, Columbus, who will become assistant resident physician there upon the completion of his internship, has invented an "infant respirator" which can be constructed at a cost of less than twenty-five dollars. The "iron lung" is complete with oxygen mask on the side, pressure gauge, and a rubber diaphragm which is operated by a hand pump. Dr. Srigley designed it to provide an inexpensive respirator for small hospitals and clinics. It has been submitted to practical tests and found to be successful. After graduating with Phi Beta Kappa honors at Ohio University, he attended the Harvard University Medical School, from which he graduated in 1939. His first year of internship was served at Charity Hospital, New Orleans, one of the largest hospitals in the United States. He is a son of Mrs. H. S. Srigley (JENNIE SPRAGUE, '03), Athens, and a brother of Dr. JOHN H. SRI GLEY, '29, Athens dentist.

JOHN R. WHITING, '36, Philadelphia, a member of the editorial staff of CLICK Magazine, was one of fourteen representatives of news, magazine, radio, and newsreel services who made a tour of the country aboard a special American Airline's Flagship, inspecting national defense training centers. The result of Whiting's trip, which was sponsored by the War Department under the direction of a member of the General Staff, is a four-page article in the current issue of CLICK. Air fields, special army schools, aircraft plants, and defense industry centers were included in the tour. At Langley Field, Va., John was one of six men to go on a practice bombing mission and to see the efficacy of the Army's secret bomb-sight. At the Douglas aircraft plant in Los Angeles, the inspection group was taken inside the new B-19 bomber, largest in the world. The group also had opportunities, during the tour, to ride in scout cars, tanks, and an observation plane, and to fire both the new Garand rifle and the Browning automatic rifle. Whiting took all of the pictures shown in the CLICK story.

On the Firing Line: ERNEST L. WILSON, '39, is a member of Company C, 3rd Signal Training Battalion, Signal Corps Replacement Center, Fort Monmouth, N. J., where he is taking special training in radio maintenance. . . . CARLTON R. ASHER, '40, who has had an excellent position as a traveling representative of the Cochran Rug Co., Philadelphia, will be inducted into Uncle Sam's military menage on May 27. . . . JOHN PAUL JONES, '39, has completed the United States Navy's new, short-term course at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, and was commissioned an ensign in mid-May ceremonies. He expects assignment orders at an early date. . . . LIEUT. FRED J. FRAZER, '40, who has been on recruiting duty for the United States Marine Corps in colleges and universities in the northern part of Ohio, has been ordered to report to Norfolk, Va., where he will await transportation to Lisbon, Portugal, and assignment to the U. S. S. Quincey, a station ship off the coast of Portugal. . . . Although not exactly "on the firing line," MRS. HELEN HOOK WILLS, '28, wife of Lieut. Franklin Wills, commanding officer of Company A, 8th Medical Battalion, at Fort Jackson, S. C., is close enough to smell the smoke. Mrs. Wills, a former member of the Ohio University music faculty, has been living in Columbia, S. C., since her husband was called to service last January. She reports that "I'm finding Columbia very pleasant. It's an extremely music-minded place, and I am glad to be back in the swing again." In civilian life, Lieut. Wills is a physician in McArthur, Ohio. . . . AUDREY CALLANDER, '38, is a camp hostess at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill. Chanute Field is one of the primary training posts for airmen who are later sent to advanced air schools throughout the country. . . . WILLARD H. SMITH, '40, completed the Army Air Corps' elementary flying course at Randolph Field in Texas, and on May 29 will graduate, with the commission of a second lieutenant, from the advanced course at Brooks Field, Texas. . . . RAYMOND OLIVER, '38, M.Ed., '41, and RAYMOND PFEGER, '38, both teachers in Athens Junior High School, have been granted leaves of absence for military service next year. . . . CHARLES O. HARDMAN, '38, is now a naval aviation cadet at the Grosses Isle, Mich., air field. . . . RICHARD COLE, '41x, brother of MARTHA COLE, '30, Dayton, is now a flying cadet at Randolph Field, Texas. Pictures of Cadet Cole and some of his flying colleagues were carried in a recent issue of a Dayton paper.

ROBERT D. SWEET, '36, who received both his master's and his doctor's degree while serving as a research assistant at Cornell University, is now an extension specialist in the department of vegetable crops in Cornell's College of Agriculture.

ELEANOR KENT, '37, will receive the degree of Master of Science in Nursing from the Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing of Western Reserve University on June 11. The Bolton School and the Yale University School of Nursing are the only nursing schools in the country awarding this degree. Nurse Kent has a position with the Cleveland Visiting Nurse Association for the coming year.

A farewell banquet honoring Lieut. Charles H. Fair, instructor in military science and tactics at Ohio University, was given on May 22 by the Pershing

Richard E. Lawrence

Rifles, an honorary military organization composed of R. O. T. C. cadets. Lieut. Fair, who has been associated with the Ohio University corps since 1937, is under orders to leave for Ft. Benning, Ga., where he will be assigned to the 24th Infantry, U. S. A. Mrs. Fair, (MARCELLA HYDE, '37), will remain in Athens until she has completed her graduate studies in August.

FRANCES GENSLEY, '37, formerly society editor of the Mansfield News-Journal, reports that she has joined her family in Youngstown and is at the moment a "lady of leisure." Miss Gensley is one of a number of outstanding newspaper women who have graduated from Ohio University's School of Journalism in recent years.

HAROLD N. CARLISLE, '39, and JAMES W. BARTHOLOMEW, '39, both of whom are candidates for master's degrees at Ohio University next month, have been accepted as graduate assistants at Ohio State University and the University of Wisconsin, respectively, for the coming year.

"A few weeks ago, writes" ROSEMARY McHALE, '40, Lima, secretary to the N. Y. A. regional director, "I went to Spencerville with the family I am living with. When we entered the auditorium, it was dark, since the program had begun. Mrs. D— asked an usher how long the program has been on. When the usher answered, I thought I recognized her voice, and, taking a long shot in the dark—yes, in the dark—I said, 'Is that you, Bing Crosby?' and sure enough, it was PEARL CROSBY (alias Bing), a graduate in the Class of 1940. She's been teaching home economics in the Spencerville high school since last September."

MARY AGNESI, '40, an Ohio University Phi Beta, is engaged in social work at the Hazleton Settlement House in her home city, Youngstown.

ALLEN KNISLEY, '40, last year's "outstanding student from Ross County," has accepted a teaching position in the high school at Uhrichsville. Mr. Knisley, who, since graduation, has been working on his Master's degree at Ohio University, will teach industrial arts in his new position.

"I'm thinking of those millions of young people our age who live in other lands and who have little chance of education or future happiness," remarked RICHARD E. LAWRENCE, Canton, president of the Class of 1941 (see preceding page), as he opened his Senior Day address in Alumni Memorial Auditorium on May 23. "We should feel thankful and not too proud. The test of our right to feel really proud is what we can do with our newly acquired gift—a college education." His concluding words were, "It is with deep regret that we say goodbye to Ohio University, but although we say goodbye, we know that throughout life we shall carry fond memories of the days spent in her halls."

Southeastern Ohio homecraftsmen and women now have an outlet for their wares in the new, seven-county Crafts Plan Cooperative which was opened in Athens by FLOYD COOPER, '41, former area supervisor of W. P. A. adult education. The cooperative functions like the Berca, Ky., plan for making and selling native crafts. It is an outlet for home crafters in Hocking, Washington, Jackson, Vinton, Gallia, Meigs, and Athens counties. Mr. Cooper is convinced that "Hill-craft Art" is as representative of southern Ohio talent as the tufted bespreeds of Georgia and the basketware of the Kentucky mountains. Mr. Cooper is shown with some of the articles displayed in his shop in the picture on this page.

DR. LEO C. BEAN, '11, and Mrs. Bean (JULIA BAKER, '11, 2-yr.), Gallipolis, will attend the graduation of their youngest daughter from Mt. Holyoke College early in June.

DR. CARL A. FREY, '25, professor of bacteriology at Ohio University, and his colleagues in the Department of Zoology were hosts to the Ohio branch of the Society of American Bacteriologists which held its annual spring meeting in Athens on May 3. Dr. J. C. Toomy, Cleveland, gave the principal address on "Fundamental Unknowns in Infectious Diseases." The society's national convention will be held in Columbus next year.

HELEN GLEASON, '26, former secretary to the dean of men at Ohio University, is supervisor of the dictaphone station in the Service Bureau of the University of Michigan.

DANIEL WILLARD, '27 (LL.D.), 80-year-old dean of American transportation officials, resigned last month as president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and was immediately elected to the newly created post of chairman of the board. President Willard, upon whom more than a dozen universities bestowed honorary degrees, was awarded the degree of Doctor of Laws by President Bryan of Ohio University in 1927.

Ladies, no longer need you worry about food left in opened cans—it won't poison you, says DR. LAWRENCE P. EBLIN, '31, assistant professor of chemistry at Ohio University. Of course, the food may spoil if it isn't soon used or is not kept in a cool place. The can, however, won't poison the food. Cans are usually lined with zinc, which, according to the professor, is harmless. So-called "tin" cans are iron coated with zinc, because tin is too expensive to be used for this purpose.

GENE B. DUNLOP, '33, 2-yr., Carbon-dale, is represented by a poem in the 1940 edition of "Poets of America."

FRANCIS C. AMBROSE, '34, is director of the West Side Boys' Club in Bridgeport, Conn.

DR. VIRGIL L. CROSS, '35, an interne at City Hospital, on Welfare Island in New York City's East River, has been elected president of his sixty interne colleagues at the hospital.

MRS. MARY McCUNE BLACK, '37, wife of LLOYD C. BLACK, '37, Charleston, W. Va., reports that she has recently been elected president of the Pi Beta Phi alumnae chapter of that city, and is also corresponding secretary of the Allied Artists of West Virginia. She was an art major on the campus. Her husband is service manager of Conditioned Air, Inc., in Charleston.

ROBERT E. FAIRES, '39, an honor student in physics at Ohio University, will receive a master's degree from Duke University next month.

OLEN C. FULMER, '40, is another of Uncle Sam's nephews who is preparing to serve his country at Fort Monmouth, Red Bank, N. J. Olen is in Co. E of the 4th Signal Training Battalion. Besides routine drill he is engaged in a study of army personnel and administration. Just where he will go from Fort Monmouth he does not know. This camp, a new one, is located about 35 miles from New York City and three miles from the ocean.

Mrs. R. Drexel MacTavish (WINIFRED HEALY, '40, whose marriage is announced on the next page, and who has been teaching during the past year in the Smith-Hughes home economics department of the high schools at Chesterhill and Pennsville, has received appointment as N. Y. A. supervisor of girls' professional activities in the Athens district. Her duties will consist of contacting school heads and other officials in the area with a view to setting up N. Y. A. projects for girls. According to Mrs. MacTavish, through a lack of such projects the girls do not have the same work-experience opportunities accorded the young men in the district. Along with her new work, Mrs. MacTavish plans to complete work for a master's degree at Ohio University in the fields of sociology and child welfare service.

"Four-Year Heaven," a song written by VERN SMOLIK, '40x, former Cleveland student, made a hit with Band Leader George Hall at the Ohio University Senior Ball on May 23. Words of the song were printed on the dance programs, and dancers sang the lyrics to the piano accompaniment of Hughey Backenstoe, Washington C. H. junior. The band leader asked for a copy of the song and indicated that he would add it to his repertoire.

With the Class of 1940: CHARLES E. WEBER is a student in the University of Rochester (N.Y.) Medical School . . . WENDELL M. JONES is supervisor of vocal music in the Newark city schools . . .
